

Raleigh Social News

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Raleigh, N. C., January 22.—Mrs. E. M. Moffitt, who was State regent four years, and is about to leave Raleigh to take up her residence in Richmond, was the guest of the Raleigh Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John E. Ray, one of the most enthusiastic members of the society. There was an informal reception in Mrs. Moffitt's honor and she was elected honorary regent of the Raleigh chapter for life. There was a special service of refreshments, for which the dining table was spread with rare old china, a number of the pieces having seen service before the Revolutionary War. One especially noticeable was a punch-bowl, that was used by Judge John Williams over a century ago. During a business meeting of the society, Miss Mary Hill, of Hinton, recent, paid a tribute to the service that Mrs. Moffitt has rendered the society, and in the name of the society, presented her with a lovely gold pin of the North Carolina society.

Governor and Mrs. Kitchin entertained at dinner Friday evening at the mansion. Their guests being Hon. and Mrs. J. Bryan Grimes, Hon. and Mrs. J. J. Joyner, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Lee Smith, Hon. and Mrs. B. R. Lacy, Hon. and Mrs. B. F. Dixon, Colonel and Mrs. A. J. Field, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Frederick, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Cross. It is a matter of special social interest that Mr. and Mrs. Edgar C. Hillier have opened their handsome Hillsboro street residence, one of the loveliest and best adapted for entertaining in Raleigh, and that Mrs. Hillier will be here the remainder of the season. She has been for several months at their fine old country place, Frederick Hall, near Richmond.

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. E. D. Battle entertained at the Bridge Club in honor of Mrs. Albert L. Cox, who was Miss Nash of Tarboro, and has just become a member of Raleigh society.

Mrs. Thomas S. Kenan entertained Friday morning in honor of Mrs. W. K. Kenan of Lookport, N. Y., who was here for a few days on her way to Wilmington to visit other relatives. It was a bridge party and luncheon, and proved a most delightful. The guests were Mrs. Albert L. Cox, Mrs. Louis Mahler, Mrs. John Andrews, Mrs. W. K. Kenan, Mrs. H. G. Connor, Mrs. Hoke, Mrs. Henry W. Miller, Mrs. Julian Timberlake, Mrs. Charles McKimmon and Mrs. H. A. Royster.

Mrs. Gavin Doran entertained in honor of Mrs. John Andrews Friday afternoon. The affair was a 5 o'clock tea. The guests were greeted in the hall by Mrs. Doran, Mrs. M. E. Hill, Mrs. Dorch and Miss Susie McPeckers. An especially beautiful feature of the decorations was an arrangement of red carnations. Mrs. Russell Sherrill had charge of the punch bowl, and the tea was poured by Mrs. A. B. Andrews, Jr.

Mrs. John Andrews was the guest of honor for a delightful bridge party Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Henry W. Miller. Mrs. Miller presented to each guest a dainty little souvenir in the form of a miniature hat to be used as a penholder. There was also a lovely bunch of violets for each guest, and these exquisite flowers formed a striking part of the special decorations for the occasion. There was a luncheon served after the bridge party. Mrs. Miller's guests were Mrs. Albert Cox, Mrs. J. B. Timberlake, Mrs. L. A. Mahler, Mrs. Frank Stronach, Jr., Mrs. B. Andrews, Jr., Mrs. H. A. Royster, Mrs. John C. Drewry, Miss Nancy Page, of Maryland.

Mrs. John C. Parker and Mrs. S. R. Horton were special guests at a lunch party given Thursday afternoon by Misses Rosa and Carrie Broughton. The afternoon proved delightful for every guest.

Miss Hal Morson was hostess Thursday afternoon for a bridge party in honor of Mrs. Albert L. Cox. Her guests were Mrs. Cox, Mrs. Louis Mahler, Mrs. W. B. Snow, Mrs. John Andrews, Mrs. L. S. Battle, Mrs. W. B. Drake, Mrs. R. D. W. Connor, Mrs. Julian Timberlake, Mrs. George Folk, Miss Sarah Cheshire, Miss Gertrude Winston and Miss Susan Marshall.

"American Women Writers" was the subject of a delightful and very profitable meeting of the Olla Podrida Book Club Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. E. Stone as hostess. There were a number of most interesting papers, and Mrs. Stone provided special entertainment that distinguished the meeting as one of the most pleasant of the season. Special guests, other than the club members were Mrs. Franklin McNeill, Mrs. J. W. Cross, Mrs. J. S. Wynne and Mrs. Felix Hervey of Kingston.

"Our Greatest Critic" James Russell Lowell, was the subject of the meeting of the Fortnightly Review Club Tuesday afternoon. The club was fortunate in having Mrs. Charles McKimmon as hostess. There was a sketch of the life of James Russell Lowell, by Mrs. Buell. Mrs. Shipp presented a paper in which she compared Lowell's treatment of the "The Holy Grail" with Tennyson's. Then there was an article of special interest on the Bigelow Papers read by Mrs. Chamberlain.

Dear Madam: In my innocence I purchased in New York (100 miles from here) a jar of your

"PIN-MONEY PICKLES,"

It brought me great trouble, and one of three things must occur: 1. You must stop making them; or 2. I must get them at less expense; or 3. I'm a ruined man.

Since my first venture I've had many letters. My family from early on has been "Pickles," neighbors ring the door bell and shout "Pickles," relatives call them "Pickles," your pickles are my "Pickles." Please, Dear Madam, quote them by the Keg, Barrel, Hogshead, Ton or Shipload, and "reserve" me yours very truly,

THE LAST WEEK

Of the greatest Profit-giving Sale that Richmond has ever known. Talk about value giving, the town is literally full of big value talk, for for clean, clear-cut profit giving this sale of ours has never been equaled. We're giving values that not only make people talk, but make people feel; yes, feel when they go to pay their bill that it's the best spent money of a lifetime. If you're money-wise, you'll read and re-read every line and word of this "ad," not large, not lengthy, just a thin shell, big-kernal "ad." See how much you can save in the next six days. Shop here.
